

Condo Conversion Bylaw

Attorney General Denies Ordinance; Town Will Challenge Decision

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Andover's new condominium conversion bylaw has been declared illegal by the attorney general's office, but the town has challenged the finding in an appeal to the superior court.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels filed suit in Salem Superior Court Tuesday morning seeking to uphold the town meeting decision to provide protection to apartment dwellers threatened by conversion to condominiums.

The most immediate impact could be on the townspeople who fought hardest for passage of the bylaw which the attorney general has ruled against: residents of the Washington Park apartments. Tenants of the North Main street apartment complex who learned of the impending and long-anticipated conversion of their complex last week, had hoped the bylaw would help cushion the conversion blow for them.

The proposed bylaw called for one year's notice before tenants of converted buildings could be asked to leave. It also required developers to obtain a special permit from the Zoning Board of Appeals to convert apartments into condominiums.

Town Counsel Alfred Daniels said Tuesday he is confident the state Supreme Court will overturn the attorney general's decision. He filed suit in Salem Superior Court Tuesday morning.

And he warned that if the new owners of Washington Park proceed with plans to convert the apartments, they "could be doing it at their peril."

Daniels said there is some possibility the superior court will pass the case directly along to the supreme court; in that event, the supreme court could hear the case as early as October, he indicated.

Andover Atty. Gerald Lewis, who represents a group of Washington Park tenants, said Tuesday he agrees with town counsel that the attorney general's ruling is "probably incorrect."

Lewis added that he is not sure what steps the tenants would take next. Representatives of the new owners of the complex, Cohen Properties of Brookline, were scheduled to meet with tenants tonight and last night to discuss the selling price that will be offered to tenants.

That price will be "substantially lower than the initial offering price to the general public," according to a letter to tenants from U.S. Condominium Corporation of Boston, which will "supervise" the conversion for Cohen Properties.

The decision to disapprove the bylaw was made by Assistant Attorney General Henry O'Connell, who is in charge of town bylaws for the attorney general's office, and authorized by Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti.

In a letter to Town Clerk Elden Salter dated July 1, O'Connell explained that the bylaw was disapproved because "the Town of Andover does not have the authority to regulate condominiums and evictions without enabling legislation."

"The regulation of condominium conversion is without the authority conferred by Chapter 40A (the zoning law) and has no relationship to the health, safety and welfare of the inhabitants," he wrote. "There is nothing in Chapter 40A which authorizes such limitations on the form of property ownership."

The assistant attorney general added that the home rule amendments to the state constitution do not give the town the power to enact the bylaw either.

Town counsel disagrees on both counts. "Home rule allows towns to do most anything, unless it really violates legislation," he said. "It gives towns literally unlimited powers. Home rule has a lot of teeth."

Daniels also believes the zoning law gives towns the authority to regulate condominium conversions, as part of the planning process, he said.

"Between the two," he indicated — home rule and the zoning law — "we're right. A lot of towns are doing what we're doing. I bet there will be five or six towns in court at the same time."

As for Washington Park, Daniels said a suit that Newton successfully brought against a developer in 1978 may set "a very good precedent" for Andover.

In the Newton case, the state supreme court found that a developer could not

Tyer Expands Facility

Tyer Industries, Inc., has added a 10,000-square-foot building to its manufacturing headquarters, that will feature a temperature and humidity-controlled environment and a more energy-efficient unitized mill for compound formulation.

Paul Flynn, vice-president of marketing for Tyer, said much of the new facility will be used for new mixing equipment and calendaring equipment. Presently the company produces about 25 types of roll covers, each requiring various formulations used in resurfacing rolls for paper, paperboard, textile and plastics processing machines.

The new wing will be ready for occupancy Aug. 1 and provide facilities for two 20-ton cranes, a drill rig, new energy-efficient mills for compound mixing and an enlarged shipping receiving area for handling customer rolls being resurfaced.

Flynn also said some of the new facility will be used for future expansion, expected to take place following Tyer's announcement of several new roll coverings scheduled to be available later this year.

Recitals At Academy

THE TOWNSMAN, JULY 9, 1981

This summer marks the sixth season of the Andover Summer Session's Chamber Music Program. The program has provided the Andover and North Shore community with a series of Wednesday evening chamber music concerts. The concerts this season will commence on Wednesday evening, July 8, at 7 p.m. in Kemper Auditorium, located across from the Andover Inn.

This Wednesday the faculty will perform works by Franz Joseph Haydn, Georg Fredrich Handel and Francois Poulenc. The following Wednesday the students and faculty will perform together works by Schumann, Haydn, Mozart, Honneger, Poulenc and Beethoven. Two of the Academies Ensembles will also perform that evening, the Academy Chamber Orchestra and Woodwind Ensemble.

The concert dates for the remainder of the summer are Wednesday, July 22, a faculty recital; July 29, a student/faculty recital; Aug. 5, a faculty recital; Sunday, Aug. 9, the Academy Symphony Orchestra and Ensembles; and the final recital, Aug. 12.

All concerts will be held in the Kemper Auditorium at 7 p.m. with the exception of the final recital on Aug. 12, which will be held at 2 p.m.

There is no charge for admission. The public is invited to attend.

Puppet Show

A puppet show for children, "The Robbo One Square Sirkus," will be presented by Puppets Unlimited on Sunday, July 19, at 2 and 3:30 p.m. at the Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington. Admission is free.

Puppets Unlimited, a company of three artists, creates a fascinating theatre experience complete with puppets, scenery, music and lights. The show, "Robbo One Square Sirkus" is a circus with elephants, horses, daredevils and clowns, performed not in three rings, but in one square. The accent is on comedy, with the audience encouraged to participate.

Selectmen Alter Format

There will be some changes made in the format and setting of selectmen's meetings, following a Monday night vote by the board to alter their rules of order and procedure.

The selectmen voted to hold all of their meetings in the town hall conference room, unless an item on the agenda indicates that a large crowd of townspeople might be drawn to the meeting. In that case, the meeting will be held in Memorial Hall Library, where most meetings have been held to date.

Selectmen noted that the formal setting in the library, where board members sit at one long desk facing the audience, is not "conducive to discussing the business of the town," as Donn Byrne said. Selectman Susan Poore likened the long desk to "the Great China wall."

The selectmen have been meeting at town hall only on the first Monday of the month, for conference sessions. These meetings have been devoted to discussion, with no routine matters placed on the agenda and no votes taken.

But the board has voted to abandon those special sessions: from now on, votes may be taken at every meeting. The change was recommended by Byrne.

Poore and Selectman Edward Harris passed on the vote, indicating that they would prefer to maintain the traditional conference session for one of their three meetings each month. And Harris added that he found the library more suitable to the board's meetings on a regular basis.

Project Bonds Signed

The selectmen Monday night signed $200,000 worth of bond anticipation notes to temporarily fund the $13.72 million school building program, but not without some reluctance.

The notes were signed with the two low bidders—$100,000 from the Bay State National Bank, at a 7.65 percent interest rate, and $100,000 from the New England Merchants Bank at 7.75 percent. The notes will be due Dec. 30, 1981.

This marks the second time the town has borrowed to fund the school project: $100,000 in bond anticipation notes were signed in March with Essexbank of Peabody, at 6.46 percent interest. Those notes are payable August 3.

The selectmen authorized the borrowing with a vote of four to zero, with Edward Harris abstaining. But board members indicated that they may prefer to sell bonds for long-term funding the project right away, rather than waiting as much as a year for interest rates to drop, as former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark recommended.

"We are losing substantial interest income by borrowing on this basis," Selectman Donn Byrne pointed out.

And Jerry Silverman added that he does not believe the town will "gain anything by delaying."

Selectman Susan Poore called for a "fuller discussion" of plans to bond the project, so that the selectmen can gain a better understanding of the financial market, and "on what advice these moves are being made."

Selectman Harris commented that he does not like the notion that the selectmen should sign anything presented to them without question, because the selectmen have too much responsibility to act as merely "a rubber stamp."

15 Drawn For Jury Duty

The following 15 townspeople were drawn for jury duty by the selectmen Monday night: Barbara Hillman of 13 Strawberry Hill Road; Joe Edelstein of 1 Glenn Cove; Barbara Legros of 522 South Main St.; Susan Earnshaw of 99 Lowell St.; Tadashi Bob Ota of 160 Salem St.; Paul Ciampa of 16 Hall Avenue; Frederick Cummings of 47

High Plain Road; Candace Page of 50 Birch Road; William Read of 30 Farwood Drive; John Perry of 7 Juliette St.; Heidi Smith of 14 Memorial Drive; Charles Hughes of 7 Sutherland St.; Frances Callahan of 3 Aspen Circle; David Mailloux of 39 Topping Road; and Dennis Harcastle of 4 Fulton Road.

Festival Tickets At Book Store

The Castle Hill Festival in Ipswich has announced that tickets for this year's Castle Hill Festival Concerts, July 12-Aug. 16, are now on sale in Andover at the Andover Bookstore, Olde Andover Village.

Now in their ninth year under the distinguished direction of Thomas Kelly, the Castle Hill Festival Concerts are unique artistic experiences that authentically recreate entertainments from centuries past. Performed on the grounds of the magnificent Crane Estate in Ipswich, the 16 1981 events will range from a Roaring Twenties soiree to a royal equestrian ballet featuring members of the New England Dressage Association.

The festival's series of five Friday and Saturday concerts opens on July 17 and 18 with "Castle Hill, 1928," an outdoor entertainment from the era of the Crane Estate, featuring the National Jazz Ensemble, exhibition ballroom dancing, and fireworks on the Grand Allee. The Sunday afternoon chamber music series opens Sunday, July 12, with "Shakespeare and the Dance," a program of music and dance from Shakespeare's time, performed by the Cambridge Court Dancers, under the direction of Dr. Ingrid Brainard.

Tickets are $10 for Friday and Saturday performances, $8 on Sunday. Tickets purchased in advance at ticket outlets are discounted $1.

Open House

The Ballardvale Summer Camp staff is holding an open house on Friday, July 10, between 9:30 and 10:30 a.m. for registered campers, prospective campers and parents. The program will be held at the Ballardvale Church Pre-School, Clark Road, Andover, from July 13 through Aug. 7. All visitors are welcome.

Lawn Party

The 1982 Convention Committee of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Order of Scottish Clans will sponsor a lawn party at the home of the Boldue's, 14 Brechin Terrace, Andover, Saturday, July 18, from 2-5 p.m.

Chairman of the affair will be Ing Petric who is serving on the Convention Committee. Afternoon tea will be served. Bakery and other items will be on sale.

Andover Artist On Committee

The planning committee for the twenty-first annual North Suburban Art Exhibit, including Andover artist Bette Wasserboehr, met recently to discuss plans for the 1981 exhibit.

This year's show, benefitting the Citizen's Scholarship Foundation of Wakefield, will be held September 25, 26 and 27 at the home offices of American Mutual Insurance Companies, Wakefield.

The exhibit will be open to painters, photographers and sculptors who live, work, or hold valid membership in a recognized art association in Wakefield, Melrose, Stoneham, Saugus, Lynnfield, Reading and North Reading.

Three top cash prizes of equal significance and value will be awarded, and there will be 10 special awards and a popular vote award. All prize winners will receive ribbons.

There will be an entry fee for each painting, photograph or sculpture, and one admission ticket will be given for each entry submitted. Each artist may enter one work of art.

All art work must be submitted at the American Mutual building on September 10, so that all entries may be considered for inclusion in the 1982 American Mutual calendar. The deadline for submitting entry blanks will be September 4. Entry blanks will be mailed to all previous NSAE participants and will also be available at convenient locations throughout the area at the end of July.

Judges for the 1981 exhibit will be announced at a later date.

An art raffle will again be part of the exhibit. This year, a watercolor by well-known Beverly and Rockport artist Donald Mosher will be raffled off following the conclusion of the exhibit on Sunday, September 27. Mosher's painting will be used to illustrate this year's North Suburban Art Exhibit program book

'Pippin' At Playhouse

Town & Country Playhouse, Salem, N.H., will present the hit musical, "Pippin." The production delights the audience with the freewheeling adventures of Charlemagne's son, Pippin, who, yearning for glory becomes involved with war, woman and social causes. The production is directed by David McNitt and John Mezzio is musical director. It features Andrew Curtis Farrow as the leading player and Chris Clark as Pippin.

"Pippin" is performed nightly until July 12. Town & Country Playhouse is conveniently located just five minutes from Rockingham Park at Exit 1 off Route 93.

Bike Ride

On Sunday, July 12, at 1 p.m. the Ipswich River Watershed Association invites the public to participate in a 15 to 20 mile leisurely bike ride through some of the Ipswich River Basin countryside. Interested persons should meet at 1 p.m. at the IRWA sign in the Bradley Palmer State Forest Parking lot at the main ate on Asbury Street, Topsfield. Call Jerry Model for details.

The drainage area of the basin is 148 square miles from above the Sylvania Dam in Ipswich. It is 25 miles long and about eight miles wide over about two-thirds of the 33-mile long river, the source of which is in the town of Wilmington. There are 20 towns located within or adjacent to the Ipswich River drainage basin that now use, or may use in the future, surface or groundwater from the basin as the source of water supply.

Much of the countryside along the river is extremely beautiful.

To Perform At Organ Hall

The summer series of organ recitals will continue at the Methuen Memorial Music Hall with the performance of John Richard Near on Wednesday evening, July 15, at 8:30 p.m.

Near is the associate organist of the First Church of Christ Scientist, the Mother Church, in Boston. As his program he will present the following selection: Sonata No. 6 in D Minor - Felix Mendelssohn; Fugue in A-flat Minor (1857) and Prelude and Fugue in G Minor (1857) - Johannes Brahms; and Symphony No. 9 in C minor, Opus 70 - Charles-Marie Widor.

The organ featured in this concert was originally that of the Boston Music Hall and later purchased by Edward F. Searles in 1897. Searles commissioned Henry Vaughan, the English architect who began the Washington Cathedral, to design a hall for the instrument. Named at that time Serlo Hall, it is known today as the Methuen Memorial Music Hall.

This mammoth building, 60 feet in height to the center of the vault and with walls over three feet in thickness, follows the Latin cross type of plan, with the organ located in the "chancel" and seating space for the audience provided in the "nave" and "transepts." The ceiling is an immense Roman barrel vault, executed in plaster with profuse classical detail.

Roman Corinthian pilasters complete the classic and elegant design. Such grandeur is credited to Searles, who was a recognized expert in the field of interior decoration and a member of a leading consulting firm to the art-cognizant wealthy of the day.

The Music Hall, located on Broadway, provides off-street parking beside the building.

Kenneth Grinnell will be the performing organist on July 22.

Louise Mears Receives Gift From Richard A. LaPierre

Honored For Service

At the recent Easter Seal Society Appreciation Party held in Andover, awards were presented to many Northeast volunteers including Louise Mears of Andover. Mears was honored as the Outstanding Regional Volunteer.

A former teacher, she first responded to an Easter Seal need for volunteers through her college sorority. For the past 11 years she has been a faithful, weekly Easter Seal volunteer, assisting at Telethon and Coffee Day functions, calling for camp donations, and performing a variety of clerical work in the East Seal office.

Besides her work for Easter Seals she still finds time to volunteer at a local nursing home as an organist and at her local church.

Richard A. LaPierre presented Mears with a framed lithograph, "Romance of Sail," by Glen Fowler of Salisbury Beach. Paralyzed as a result of an automobile accident, Fowler paints with a brush held in his mouth. This lithograph was selected by the Massachusetts Easter Seal Society to represent the talent and ability of handicapped people during its yearlong celebration of 1981 being proclaimed the International Year of Disabled Persons.

Language Camp Planned

Kathy Rodger, co-director of the International Institute of Greater Lawrence, has established a foreign language camp for children ages 6 to 12.

The idea for the camp, Mrs. Rodger said, has been her dream for a long time.

Art Exhibit

The paintings of Robert Greene will be on display each weekday 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. July 1 through July 21 at American Mutual Insurance Companies.

Greene's interest in drawing and painting started early in life but did not develop until a few years prior to retirement in 1976.

His first instructions were in pencil sketching at one of Harvard University extension courses. In recent years he has attended classes by Tad Lkodnicki and Corey Staid.

It stems from a time when she lived in Mexico and learned Spanish which, she says, enriched her life.

The camp will be held July 27 to Aug. 21 at West Parish Church in Andover and will offer six languages: Spanish, French, Italian, German, Portuguese and English-as-a-second language.

In September a program for those who wish to continue learning a language will be set up on Saturday mornings from 10 a.m. to noon.

Transportation arrangements are being made. Students from Lawrence will be picked up at three or four central points while children from Andover and North Andover should have no trouble getting to West Parish Church.

Youngsters interested in attending the camp should contact Mrs. Rodger or Mrs. O'Brien at the Institute's Jackson Street office.

Class Of '51 Planning Reunion

Punchard High School, Class of 1951 will hold its 30th reunion on July 25, at the Andover Elks.

and Louise (Moore) Batchelder, 215 Lowell St.

The class has also invited members of the classes of 1950 and 1952 to join with them and requests those interested to contact Betty (Gigis) Mathews, 20 Linda Road; Clifford Lawrence, 16 Clark Road

Of the combined total mileage of New England's major rivers (7,453), 4,562 miles are now safe for swimming. By 1983, 82 percent of the mileage of the major rivers is expected to be swimmable. Massachusetts Audubon tells us.

Concert

Newburyport's First Annual Concert Series opens with star musical talent on Saturday, July 25, at 7:30 p.m. when famed guitarist Chet Atkins pairs with the Kingston Trio at the High School Stadium. Sponsored by the Society for the Development of Arts and Humanities, the concert debut adds another dimension to Newburyport's increasing visibility as the North Shore's center of cultural activities.

Atkins' talents cover a broad spectrum of musical tastes, from country music to guest appearances with symphony orchestras throughout the United States. A recipient of numerous music awards, Atkins has won seven Grammy Awards and is a three-time winner of the Country Music Association's annual "Best Instrumentalist" Award. In 1973, he was elected to the Country Music Hall of Fame.

Michigan Carillonneur At Academy

The second in the fifth annual series of summer carillon recitals at Phillips Academy, Andover, will take place at Memorial Tower on Tuesday evening, July 14, at 7 p.m.

The recitalist will be Beverly Buchanan, carillonneur of Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills, Mich. In celebration of Bastille Day, Mrs. Buchanan has planned an all-French program including pieces from the baroque, classical and modern schools, as well as folk songs, dances, hymns, and "La Marseillaise," the French national anthem.

Programs will be available in the holder at the tower door. Bring lawn chairs and blankets, or in case of rain, listen from your car. Enjoy your picnic supper in any one of the recommended listening areas listed on the back of the program.

Reports From The Playgrounds

Ballardvale

Children at the Ballardvale playground were off to a good start for a fun summer during the first week of playground. Monday was registration and name-tag making. Diane and Gerry D'Angelo, Becky Tynning, Brenda Brightman and Michelle Bolin were some of the more successful name-tag makers. On Tuesday Dodgeball 01102201 and dead dog highlighted the assortment of fun and games for the day.

Some of the star players were B.J. Parker, Billy Cropper, Colleen Sherry, Reggie Hayes and Jody Jangro. Wednesday started off by making playground banners and pennants. Kathy and Angie Giuliani, Leanna Mills, Shannon Cassidy, Nathaniel Roman and Tabbitha Murray were among the creative spirit leaders. The week ended Thursday with a Happy Birthday, America cookout and party. Activities included a barnyard holler and cake decorating.

Bancroft

The new and exciting Bancroft playground is off to a great start. A hockey game started off a fun-filled week full of sports and crafts. In the crafts scene, the playground is now decorated with fabulous works of art! Parachute games were a flying success. A wonderful, action-packed summer is looked forward to as is the upcoming Halloween day.

Bancroft Pre-School

Everyone was a winner at Bancroft Pre-school's Pet Show! Todd Atanasoff's pet won the prize for the most comical animal. Ivan Barry's rabbit was the prettiest. Jamie Bellizia's panda was the best bear. Peter Bolway had the hungriest elephant and Laughlin Chanler had the most original pet—a unicorn! Brian Cronin's bear was the best dressed bear in the show. Douglas Emunds' bear won the prize for the cutest nose. Stephen Hosmer won the Best Horse Award and Andrew Hsu had the quietest pet. Lucas Lavin brought his rabbit and it won the prize for the longest ears. Kevin O'Brien won the Cutest Bear Award. Seth Patterson had the biggest pet and Peter Radocchia brought Curious George who performed for all! He also won the Most Talented Award. Emily Sedgwick owns the smallest pet (a mouse) and Sarah Weir's bear wears the cutest hat. Cate Williamson's yellow elephant took home the award for the Most Colorful Animal and Shoshanna Willner showed us the biggest mouse we've ever seen. Nicholas Zammuto's pet "Capital A" captured the Best Puppet Award and Jacob O'Leary's pet was the softest. Justin Connors helped the judges hand out the awards. Did we forget to tell you? The animals at our show were all stuffed! This week there will be a visit to the New England Clown Chowder on Wednesday and on Tuesday, everyone will be clowning around at the playground Circus Day!

Sanborn

Over 150 kids registered at Sanborn and the staff has certainly been hard pressed to keep up with all the children. Kickball, softball, bombardment and street hockey are the favorite games to play.

Jay Forlizzi, Michael Harrison, Doug Howes, Eddie Brylczk and Brian Cronin went on a 10-mile bike hike to Deer Jumb Reservation on the Merrimack River. The walls of the "Art Gallery" display dozens of masterpieces created by the many artists of Sanborn School.

Shawsheen

The 1981 edition of the Andover Department of Community Services' playground at Shawsheen School opened Monday, June 29 with a rousing week of exciting games of hockey, softball and kickball. The stars of the teams are numerous, but some of the outstanding athletes were: Colin Arsenault, Ann Marie Charland and Amee Ross. In a close game of Capture the Flag, Kelly Ross found the cleverly hidden flag and won it for her team. Some of the best artists this year are the younger generation: Julie Arsenault, Kristen Caranci and Kristin Nowell. The bike hike on Wednesday was a huge success, the older children went to Rose Glen Dairy, and the younger ones went to the Andover Country Club.

South

South School playground opened with some parachute games. The Radulski's and Frenkenberger's dominated the four-square scene. The nature collage was enjoyed by many, and then almost everyone was tied up in string art.

Following the picnic lunch on Thursday, a bubble gum contest was held. Winners of the big blow off were: Kindergarten - (1) Erin Gammon; (2) Diana Dresser; (3) Scott Henry. Grade 1 - (1) Jeff Breazeale; (2) Becky Crispo; (3) Nicole Gorton. Grade 2 - (1) Mike Henry; (2) Anne Murnane; (3) Jennifer Bastian. Grade 3 - (1) Suzanne Gianelly; (2) Tara Sullivan; (3) Aron Johnson. Grade 4 (1) Wes Breazeale; (2) Peter Radolski; (3) Betsy Frankenberg and Kathleen Radolski. Grade 5 (1) Kelsey Henry; (2) Karen Galvin; (3) Michelle Gorton.

West Elementary

If the first week of playground has been any indication, the summer of '81 is going to be "tons o' fun for everyone!" The staff is really enthusiastic about the great group of kids participating this year.

The first week's activities included kickball, softball and circle games, the making of paperweights and pinwheels, seeing a play called "The Musicians of Bremer," and, the first of many summer surprises, a watermelon, which the kids attacked with a hearty appetite.

Sanborn Pre-School

To start off the new and fun summer at Sanborn Pre-school, Amy Cohen and A.J. McCray showed their creative talents in yarn dollmaking. Tuesday Ted Friedenson was one of the many who made fabulously decorated paper airplanes. In the future there will be some exciting field trips.

Lecture

From time immemorial, man has drawn his most important medicines from the plant kingdom. This continuing use of plants is the subject of an illustrated talk, "Nature's Apothecary," which will be presented by Dr. J. Worth Estes on Sunday, July 12, at 3 p.m. at the Museum of Our National Heritage, Lexington. The public is invited to attend this talk, one of a series of lectures sponsored by the Massachusetts Medical Society in conjunction with the museum's current exhibit, "In Sickness and Health: American Patients and Doctors, 1700-1900," on display through November.

"Nature's Apothecary" might be called a modern herbal, examining the exotic and hard-to-find species as well as common backyard weeds important in medicine. The talk alludes to the medical effect of each pertinent species and traces some of the history of the place of herbals in proper medicine.

The average American, the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports, consumes some 95 pounds of refined sugar a year.

New England Law

Steven K. Feinberg

Steven K. Feinberg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Feinberg, 22 Smithshire Estates, graduated June 6 from the New England School of Law. Commencement ceremonies were held in the Hynes Auditorium, Boston.

Feinberg, a 1974 graduate of Andover High, also graduated from George Washington University in Washington, D.C., in 1978.

At New England, he was staff writer for the school paper, The Due Process, a member of the Law School Division of the American Bar Association, and a member of the corporation section of the ABA.

Springfield

Two area residents were among the 736 graduates of Springfield College who received their degrees during the college's 95th Commencement exercises on May 24 at which Dr. John Brademas, former House Majority Whip and newly elected president of New York University, urged a reemphasis upon international studies at all levels of education.

The two Andover residents are Patricia I. Barrett of 17 Washington Avenue, who was awarded a Bachelor's degree, and Bwelyn S. Oliver of 31 Mohawk Road, who was awarded a Master's of Education degree.

An independent coeducational college in western Massachusetts, Springfield College emphasizes educating young men and women for the human helping professions. Founded in 1885, the 2,200 student institution offers degrees ranging from doctoral to bachelor. This year's class included 6 doctorates, 34 certificates of advanced study, 225 master's degrees and 471 bachelor's degrees.

R.P.I.

Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute has announced the names of students who were awarded undergraduate and graduate degrees at the university's 175th commencement May 15.

From the local area:

Richard J. Dowe of 20 Banister Road, Andover, the Bachelor of Science degree in Computer Science.

Dean L. Swan of 13 Smithshire Estates, Andover, the Bachelor of Science degree in Chemical Engineering cum laude.

RPI's 1981 graduates were highly successful in obtaining jobs, with bachelor's degree recipients being offered in mid-April average yearly salaries of $22,458. Two-thirds of the graduates were employed by the time of commencement, while the remaining third chose to attend graduate or professional school.

CALL ME

When you decide to be thin.

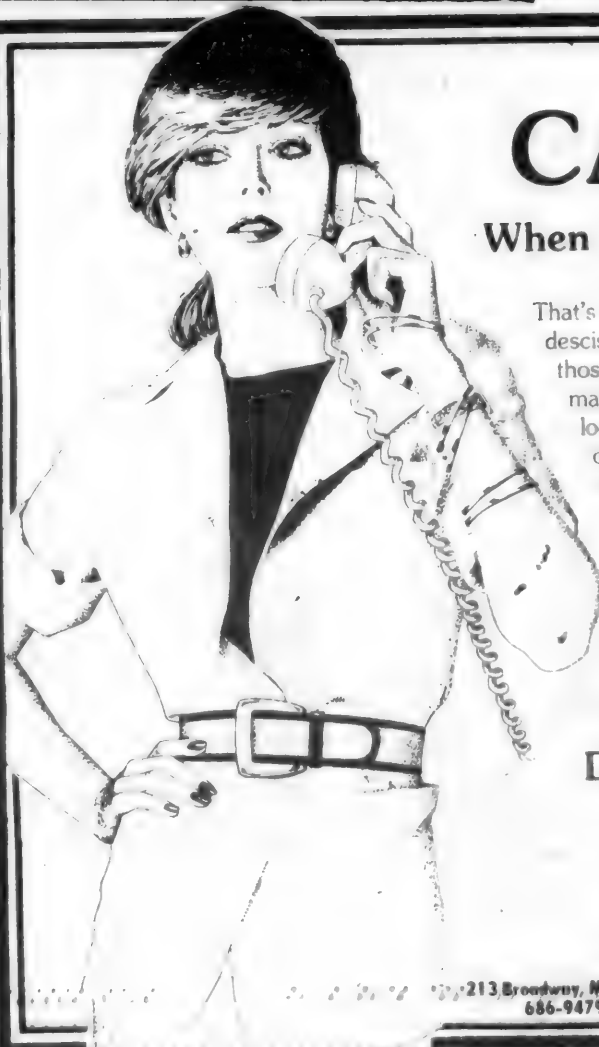

That's the most important part, your decision to really do something about those excess pounds. Once you have made that decision, call me. I'm your local Diet Center counselor and I once made that decision myself. I have overcome my own weight problem, the Diet Center way. I will help you lose 17 to 25 pounds in just 6 weeks. If necessary, that rate of weight reduction can be sustained until you have lost 50, 75 or even 100 pounds or more! Together we can make it happen.

Merrimack

Diane M. Raye, daughter of Mrs. Peter F. Raye of 8 Bowdoin Road, recently graduated from Merrimack College with a bachelor of science degree in business administration.

Raye is currently working toward a bachelor of arts degree, which she expects to receive at the end of this year.

While at Merrimack, Raye was listed in "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities," the National Register of Outstanding College Graduates and America's Outstanding Names and Faces, and received the Joseph P. Daly Award for service to the college community.

Raye also served as yearbook editor and vice-president of membership for the Society for the Advancement of Management, and was one of two students on the planning committee for the future goals of the college.

Tufts

Ann R. White of Karlton Circle, Andover, received a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering during Tufts University's 125th commencement ceremonies in May.

Tufts University, established in 1852, has an enrollment of more than 6,000 students and offers undergraduate degrees in arts, sciences and engineering. Graduate degrees are also awarded by the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, the Sackler School of Biomedical Sciences and the Schools of Medicine, Dental Medicine, Veterinary Medicine and Nutrition.

Elected

Three local residents have been elected to serve as consumer representatives on the Greater Lawrence Council for Children.

Named to the board were Betty Crowley of Andover, Toni Rollins of Andover and Kelly Krugh of North Andover.

Eight consumer representatives are elected to the board each year. In addition, nine representatives of children's services are named to the board, along with three officers.

the college at the Federation's recent annual meeting.

The standard flower show, entitled "A Touch of Autumn," was sponsored jointly by Northern Essex and the Merrimack Valley Garden Clubs which are members of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc. Co-chairmen of the event were Mary Conley, past president of the West Newbury Garden Club and the former Northern District Director of the Massachusetts Federation, and Helen Mack, president of the Lawrence Garden Club and a past president of the Massachusetts Federation. Representing the college on the committee were Professor John Finneran of North Andover and Professor George DeHullu of Plaistow, N.H.

The show also won the Margaret Bent Patterson Near-Clubs Award at the annual meeting. This special award is presented for shows sponsored by clubs which are geographically close to each other but not affiliated.

Taking part in the show were the Andover Garden Club, the Andover Four Seasons Garden Club, the Andover Village Garden Club, the Boxford Village Garden Club, the Georgetown Country Gardeners, the Groveland Garden Club, the Haverhill Garden Club, the Lawrence Garden Club, the Spindle City Garden Club of Lowell, the North Andover Garden Club and the West Newbury Garden Club.

Proceeds from the show, the first standard flower show held at the college, benefited the Northern Essex Scholarship Fund.

For Those Of Us Who Are Older

By Janet D. Lake

The next in the Travelog series will be next Monday, July 13, at 2 p.m. with Bob Coombs taking you on a trip to Arizona. Come enjoy visiting this beautiful part of our country without leaving the air-conditioned comfort of The Haven.

Monday, July 20, the Travelog will be a trip to Germany with Nancy Gallagher. Note it on your calendar.

The trip to Edaville is sold out

A second bus has been arranged for the Boston Harbor Cruise, but even it is filling fast. Don't delay if you want to take this delightful trip with lunch aboard the boat August 13 — and all for only $11.50. But sign up now or you'll be too late!

The Day in the Park at Phillips Academy's Bird Sanctuary is coming up July 17. It is a delightful, cool place to be on a warm July day. There will be refreshments throughout the day topped by a chicken dinner and music and dancing for your entertainment. Although there are plenty of chairs at the Bird Sanctuary, you might enjoy bringing your lawn chairs to relax in. Cost for the day is $2.50. Transportation should be arranged through WEEBUS. If you want to leave earlier than you had planned, a phone is available to call for an earlier ride home.

Tickets to a Wednesday matinee performance of CAMELOT starring Richard Harris August 26 are available at the center. Cost is $22 for transportation and orchestra seats.

The Jazzercise Class has been postponed until July 17, Friday morning, from 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. There is still time to register and not miss any of the classes. And it might be well to note that you'll be having fun with Jazzercise in the air-conditioned comfort of The Haven.

Don't let the heat of the summer get to you! You are welcome at The Haven and its air-conditioned, friendly atmosphere every weekday from 9 to 4. Come join your friends or take the opportunity to make new friends and be cool and comfortable.

ELDERLY LUNCH MENU

MONDAY: Stuffed cabbage w sauce, whipped potatoes, buttered vegetable, rolls and butter, fruit cup, choice of beverage.

Registration At Record

Registration for the summer session at Northern Essex Community College soared to 3,189 this year, surpassing even last summer's record enrollment of just over 3,000.

The registration figures were announced recently by John R. Dimitry, president of the college.

Enrollment in all areas was up, according to John Peroni, dean of Continuing Education and Community Services at Northern Essex. The greatest increase, he said, was in job-related courses and programs such as high technology and office and business education.

"People read the want ads and realize how important career education is. We are offering the programs people need for today's job market, and that is why our

Stress Lecture

Stress—its effects and how to deal with it will be the topic of a lecture at the Billerica Public Library Tuesday, July 14, at 7:30 p.m. The presentation is being offered jointly as a community service by the library and the Regional Health Center in Billerica, 76 Treble Cove Road.

The speaker will be Dale Bevins, a registered nurse who has had extensive experience in counseling people to deal with stress. Bevins, a graduate of the Massachusetts General Hospital School of Nursing, received her B.S. degree from Emmanuel College and her M.A. degree in early childhood and family intervention from Tufts University.

enrollment is up," said Peroni.

Peroni also credited the growing variety of programming offered by the college with the record enrollment. Northern Essex offered three separate sessions this summer: the standard eight-week evening session; a six-week day session; and an intensive session which allowed students to complete a course in just three weeks.

Michael Melucci

Michael Melucci, 90, 304 North Main St., Andover, a retired owner and operator of Melucci's Tailor Shop, died Tuesday, June 30, at Lawrence General Hospital, following a short illness.

Born in Roccamontina, Italy, he came to this country in 1905. He was a tailor for 60 years and owned and operated Melucci's Tailor Shop on Jackson Street. Mr. Melucci attended St. Augustine's Church. He was a life member of the B.P.O.E. No. 65 of Lawrence.

He is survived by his wife, Assunta (Maccarone) Melucci; sons, Dr. Edmond R. Melucci of Andover and Elio J. Melucci of Cranston, R.I.; and several nieces and nephews.

A Mass was celebrated Thursday at 10 a.m. in St. Augustine's Church. Burial was in West Parish Cemetery.

Charles O. Carey

Charles O. Carey, 72, 34 Foster Circle, Andover, died Sunday at his home, following a long illness.

Born in London, England, he was production manager of summer stock theater in the New York City area. He was an Army veteran of World War II serving in the 87th Infantry. He was a member of Actors Equity Guild.

He is survived by his wife, June (Steinert) Carey; daughters, Mrs. Phoebe Alexiades of California, Miss Allison Carey of Los Angeles, Calif., Mrs. Dorothy Pastwa of York, Pa., and Mrs. Carol Julian of Groton; sons, Charles Arthur Carey of Cambridge and Richard Patterson Carey of Lunenburg; a brother, Richard Carey of Florida; four grandchildren and four great grandchildren.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at the Lundgren Funeral Home, 18 Elm St., Andover. Burial was in West Parish Cemetery.

Ruth Kneeland

Mrs. Ruth (Newman) Kneeland, 76, 1 Cutts Lane, Eliot, Maine, died July 1, at York, Maine hospital.

Born in Andover, daughter of the late Charles and Maude (Randall) Newman, she attended Andover schools and graduated from Punchard High School, Class of 1932. She was a graduate of Hale Hospital School of Nursing, Haverhill. She was a member of Eliot, Maine First Congregational Church, member of the Ladies Circle of the church, Memorial Post, American Legion and the Garden Club.

She is survived by a daughter, Mrs. June Barrieau of Kennebunkport, Maine, two brothers, Winthrop Randall Newman of Andover and H. Irving Newman Sr., of Kingston, N.H.; a sister, the Rev. Harriet Newman of Eliot, Maine; six grandchildren; one great grandchild and several nieces and nephews. Another daughter, Mrs. Shirley Kilfoyle of Eliot, Maine died June 5.

Following funeral services in Eliot, Maine, burial was in Mt. Pleasant cemetery, Eliot, Maine.

Ruth E. Dunn

Mrs. Ruth E. (Lane) Dunn, 75, 9 Sutherland St., Andover, active in Andover youth work for many years, died Wednesday at Lawrence General hospital, following a long illness.

The wife of Donald D. Dunn, retired head of the physical education department in Andover public schools and for whom the Dunn gymnasium at the high school is named, Mrs. Dunn was born in South Hadley Falls. She was a member of West Parish church and a life member of George E. Fisher Chapter, South Hadley Falls Order of Eastern Star. With her husband she worked at the Andover Youth Center on Brook street for many years and in previous years had operated a dancing school in South Hadley Falls.

She is survived by her husband, Donald D. Dunn, of Andover; two daughters, Mrs. Richard (Dorothy D.) Norley of Derry, N.H. and Mrs. Anthony (Dawn D.) Cavallo of Cumberland, R.I.; seven grandchildren and one great grandson.

Lawson Finds Andover In New Jersey Surroundings

THE TOWNSMAN, JULY 9, 1981

Now a full fledged resident of Sussex County, New Jersey, Upsala's Wirths Campus Dean Edward Lawson is completing a cycle of his life that began in a similar environment in New England.

When Professor Lawson admires the Sussex countryside from his new home in Branchville, it brings back memories of his youth in Andover, then a small town of 8,000, some 20 miles from Boston. Much like the communities of Sussex County, Andover's lush, rolling hills featured acres of verdant farmlands. Unlike Sussex, however, Andover now has dramatically changed in character. Most of its farms have been replaced by highways, housing developments and the Internal Revenue Service headquarters for the Northeast.

Upon graduation from high school, Lawson left Andover to make his way in the world of higher education, first as a student at Boston University and then as a teacher at several colleges before joining Upsala at its East Orange campus in 1965. As a harbinger of things to come, one of the colleges at which Lawson taught was in Newton (Massachusetts, not Sussex County) where he was a faculty member of Lasell Junior College, which like Upsala's Wirths facility, is a private two year college.

Since Upsala was given $1 million worth of land and buildings by civic leader Wallace R. Wirths in 1978 to develop a college in Wantage, Lawson has been commuting on almost a daily basis from his Essex County home in Glen Ridge to Sussex. He completed the Essex-Sussex switch in June when he moved into his new residence at 2 Church Hill Road, Branchville.

"I recall camping in Sussex County with my sons," said the director of Upsala's Wirths campus, "but I never fully appreciated the landscaping beauty and the fresh air of Sussex until I became an 'adopted' resident of this county."

"The residents here have been incredible," he speaks glowingly. "They have taken Upsala to their hearts and have helped us whenever we needed them. More often than not, they have gone beyond ordinary expectations to help Upsala get off the ground, so to speak. They are contributing to a great educational metamorphosis in Sussex County."

Upsala, which recently was granted permission by the state to award associate in arts and in science degrees, had been operating as an extension campus until that approval came. It has completed four semesters and this fall, as it begins its third academic year in Sussex County, it will embark upon its first full year as a branch campus, offering a record high of 51 courses.

Enthusiastic about the future of higher education in Sussex, Lawson sees the 80s as a key decade for the college. It is during those 10 years he hopes to see a "real campus" develop with a student body approaching 1,000. The construction of a library and a classroom building are also visualized by Lawson for this decade.

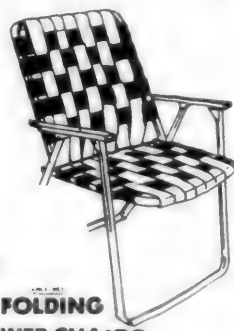

When that happens, Lawson can rightfully claim that New England, where he started his education, and New Jersey's Sussex County, where he helped develop higher education, have much in common in his life.

Shattuck Buildings' Future Bleak

The future is looking bleak for preservation of the historic Shattuck Farm buildings — at least for keeping the three buildings together and in Andover.

"The Historical Commission is working very hard to save the Shattuck property, but it still looks very, very depressing," Selectmen Chairman Norma Gammon reported to the board Monday night.

Time is running out for the century-old wooden farm buildings, located in the West Andover Industrial Tech Park on a River Road parcel that belongs to Digital Equipment Corp.

Arkwright-Boston Insurance Company, developer of the industrial park, owns the buildings, and Arkwright has promised to remove the buildings from Digital's land within 60 days. If the buildings are not removed by then, they may be destroyed.

Six or seven prospective developers have expressed some interest in acquiring one or two of the buildings — but not all three, Marsha Rooney of the historical commission said Tuesday.

Commission members, working with

Gammon and representatives of Arkwright and Digital, are currently accepting proposals which range from renovating the buildings into private residences, to commercial buildings. "We haven't seen anything really concrete yet," Rooney explained.

Some of the would-be buyers already have land to move the buildings onto, and some do not, she indicated. And some would move the buildings out of town — although Rooney doubts that the old structures would survive a long move unless they were dismantled and later rebuilt.

She said chances are "not very good" that all three buildings will be kept together.

Gammon believes keeping the buildings together is now "a big impossibility. To me it's just so sad," she added. "We had such a perfect opportunity to save them, and we lost it."

She was referring to last month's annual town meeting, when voters defeated a proposal that might have preserved the buildings as a group, under Article 19.

That article, supported by the historical commission, suggested rezoning a 1.3 acre parcel on River Road from Industrial D to Industrial G, a less restrictive zone.

The commission hoped that rezoning would encourage a buyer to move the three buildings onto the lot, for commercial use. Commission Chairman Philip K.

Allen emphasized the importance of preserving the buildings near their original site; that now seems very unlikely to happen.

Prospective buyers will be asked to submit detailed proposals to the historical commission by August 1, Rooney said, so Never Kenneled Your Dog Before????

A personal consultation will calm your fears and your dog will enjoy his stay while you enjoy your vacation.

"About 1965 I went in search of a place to board my 3 dogs. I didn't want them in a hospital — or a cage — most kennels caged their dogs and conditions were repulsive to me. I cancelled my vacation. I had a small building that I converted with "stalls and runs." Cost (those days) $800.00 — capacity 11 dogs. I put in this building what I wanted my own dogs to have. That was the beginning of TEE-EMM'S KENNEL. Capacity now 513 Dogs and Cats (separate floors). We are now putting up a new modern building (our 5th) that will be completed this spring — it will be SUPER BEAUTIFUL. We are indeed very proud of it and a dream has come true."

Final Plans Awaited

Cardinal Cushing Gym Could Wind Up Back On The Market

A small hitch has apparently developed in the town's plans to sell the Cardinal Cushing gymnasium on Haverhill Street to three North Andover doctors who want to convert the building into professional offices.

Drs. Sanford Kaufman, Joseph Guerra and Mark Abelson signed a $65,000 sale agreement with the town last year, after 1980 annual town meeting authorized sale of the building.

But after receiving preliminary approval for $1.4 million in industrial revenue financing this spring, the doctors still have not returned to the Industrial Development Finance Authority (IDFA) with a detailed explanation of why they need that much money to renovate the compact brick building.

And unless that explanation is forthcoming, the town may withdraw from the sale agreement and put the gymnasium back on the market, IDFA Chairman Dr. Lawrence Spiegel said Tuesday.

Last week, the selectmen instructed acting Town Manager Tony Torrisi to send the doctors a letter, explaining that their preliminary approval "may be in jeopardy" if they do not submit more information to the IDFA within 30 days.

"We usually don't push people," Spiegel said. "But this building would be sold to them at a relatively low cost, and the selectmen want to know what's happening. We want the doctors to at least buy the building. It's time for them to fish or cut bait."

Spiegel said town officials are eager to sell the building so it can start producing tax revenues for the town again. "If (the doctors) are not going to get going, we will put it out for bid again," Selectman Chairman Norma Gammon indicated.

Spiegel emphasized that it is "not an unpleasant situation. There's nothing hostile, nothing negative. We just want to accelerate — we don't want it to drag on indefinitely."

He explained that both the IDFA and selectmen approved preliminary financing for the doctors plans "reluctantly." The IDFA found the $1.4 million figure "very, very high," he said, while it seemed to the selectmen to be "an astronomical amount of money," according to Gammon. "We were very distressed."

But it is not uncommon for the IDFA to be lenient with preliminary approvals, Spiegel said, so that applicants are not hindered in their efforts to get low-interest revenue bonds from banks.

Before final approval is granted, however, the finance authority "gets pickier," he said. Applicants are expected to justify their requests in detail, and that's where the problem lies with the gymnasium plans: the doctors have not returned to the IDFA with more information, as the authority had requested.

Dr. Guerra did appear before the authority in May, with a contractor, but they offered "only a partial explanation" for the cost. "We still need the cost justified," Spiegel explained.

Preliminary plans call for converting the former gymnasium — which was once the Crystal Ballroom — into 18 professional office suites on two floors, with some additional construction possible. There will be few changes to the exterior of the building.

The doctors, calling themselves the "Andover Professional Trust," have indicated that one reason for the high cost is that a number of plumbing fixtures will have to be installed throughout the building, to serve several doctors' offices.

Spiegel said the IDFA has "bent over backwards" to help the doctors with their plans, because they believe professional offices would be "an excellent use for the gym. We have given them guidance and a lot of help and support."

And the doctors have, in turn, been very cooperative, he added. They were instrumental in having part of Shawsheen Village declared a state CARD (Commercial Area Revitalization District) district, hiring a consultant to complete the necessary documents to town officials' satisfaction.

The doctors have applied for revenue funding under the CARD program, which offers revenue bonding at a low interest rate to small businesses. Until recently, such loans were available only to large industries. The cost to the town is minimal.

After approval by the local IDFA, the application must be approved by the Massachusetts Industrial Finance Authority (MIFA).

The doctors have also completed traffic impact studies which show the office building would not be a "hazard to the neighborhood," Spiegel added.

McQuade To Seek D.C. Funding Assurance

By Sue Aucella Deacon

Mr. McQuade goes to Washington?

That might not be such a bad idea, the selectmen decided Monday night, if it will help guarantee that Andover will actually receive the federal funds it has been counting on to build a new Riverina Road pumping station.

The board voted unanimously to send Public Works Director Robert McQuade, along with one selectman, to the nation's capital to try to speed up funding of the $6 million project, two years in the planning.

The town will fund approximately 11 percent of the total project cost, $7,000 to $8,000. Of the rest, 75 percent will be funded by the federal government, and about 45 percent by the state.

If all goes well, construction could begin on the pumping station next summer, and be completed in two years, McQuade said.

The project has been divided into three stages for federal funding: step one was a $106,000 preliminary study, called the waste water facility plan, which was completed last summer.

And the federal Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) recently approved $263,862 for step two, final design and bid

Traumatic Tidbits To Conjure

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Heat and humidity having set in making life generally uncomfortable, it seems hardly the time for any serious commentary on the state of the town.

More in keeping with the seasonal discomfort is a general reflection on some of the issues which could be facing the town when the vacation season is over and one can think more clearly of the several crises facing our town in the 80's.

Our resident expert, Phineas P. Poindexter, III, from the south section of Ballardvale, just to the right of Lowell Junction, is poised this time of year to forecast some of the more pressing problems which will be facing Andover as it enters the second half of 1981, minus a town manager and without the assistance of a director of community planning and development.

In the face of no state budget, restraints of proposition 2½, and social security fund doldrums, Phineas sees Andover plagued by more serious issues such as cats, caterpillars, dogs and mosquitoes, all of which could occupy considerable attention at the next town meeting, whether it be special or the annual agenda next spring.

Sitting under what was once his favortie shade tree, now stripped of its greenery by the creepy crawlers of spring, Phineas kept batting away at the fluttering flotillas of gypsy moths which the caterpillars have become. "Foolish males in love, fluttering freely when they should have been doused and dropped by sufficient spray earlier in the year," he observed.

But the caterpillar problem, now on the wane as the moths fly around for a while longer before their eventual demise was the least of his concern at the moment.

Arousing his ire was the anonymous caller who had vented anti-feline feelings in the Sound Off column of a local newspaper, demanding an ordinance in Andover limiting the number of cats per household.

"Probably some cantankerous cuss cuddling a canine, instead of caressing a cat, which is a pet of pertinent, proud appearance and cuddly cute, at times," Phineas advised.

Cats will sometimes shock an unwary person with its horrendous habit of winding its furry body around and through your legs, or might exercise its claws on an overstuffed chair or curtain, but for the most part are unobtrusive, quiet and reserved.

Dogs, on the other hand, are another subject in and of themselves.

A perky pekingese or a surly shepherd howling hideously all hours of the day and night can hardly be compared to a chummy Cheshire purring contentedly, our expert reports.

The problem with barking dogs could stem back to the town meeting ordaining that the canines had to be lashed to a leash, which hasn't seemed to halt the bursting bags on the refuse route, or the fact that Rover romps rampantly 'round at will from time to time in many sections of town.

Prediction here is that leash law advocates, seeking further relief from barking bowwows, will come to the aid of the cats with a new campaign to muzzle the mutts.

With dusk descending, the subject of laying a lethal, liquid layer on larvae to cure caterpillar continuation a year from now was being broached when Flossie Flothingham, Poindexter's neighbor, burst bouncily over the terrain with an insect repellant bomb.

Floss was addressing herself and the neighborhood to the ever-present mosquito problem in Andover. Despite repeated attempts to beat the buzzing buzzards, environmentalists have forbidden the spraying of the countryside, thus the mosquitoes have an open invitation to dive bomb anything living and breathing within the confines of Andover.

With the adroitness of a commander leading troops into battle, Flossie proceeded to pound the pressure-packed repellant into the atmosphere, then to any open flesh within reach. Mosquitoes mushed like sled dogs from the area as did everyone else, causing one to wonder if the remedy wasn't worse than the problem.

But if one is to enjoy the outdoors or the plush but taxed back yard this time of year, such steps are required, until we one day can placate purists and bomb breeding areas with a mosquito-massacring massage.

So, these are the petulant problems that agonize Andover? Thanks, Phineas, for some light summer reading.

Down The Years With The Townsman

75 Years Ago — July 1906

High Street is being macadamized by superintendent of streets, Joseph T. Lovejoy, this week.

The work on the Old South steeple has been completed, and the return of the clock after an absence of three weeks is a very welcome sight and sound.

Through the efforts of Speaker Cole, a new express train is to be placed in the summer schedule of the Boston and Maine railroad, leaving Boston at 4.30 p.m. and running express to Andover.

The fire department was called upon to extinguish fire in the wood lot owned by Frank E. Gleason in the West Parish on Tuesday afternoon, and after some hard work the blaze was extinguished. It broke out again on Wednesday and the fight was continued all day and it was not until Thursday that the fire was entirely out. Over 400 acres of woodlands were burned over. While fighting the fire Fred Collins lost a valuable watch.

Among the indictments returned by the Essex county grand jury this week was that of a local man for assault with intent to rob. The assault took place in Ballardvale where the prisoner struck Ralph Parker on the head with a hammer.

50 Years Ago — July 1931

The Merchants' banner which was suspended from the Bank to Town hall was pulled down by Carter Russell's truck of Haverhill Monday morning. It was later hung across the front of the Town house.

The local police wish to call especial attention of the townspeople and motorists of Greater Lawrence to the fact that Turnpike Street from Hillside Road to Railroad Avenue is a through way. This does not mean that a vehicle operator may slow down to almost a stop before entering or crossing but a full stop must be made. Many have apparently simply forgotten or failed to notice the stop signs. H. Stewart Redman, of Lowell gave an interesting talk on his recent experiences in Russia before members of the Andover Public School Teachers association and their friends in Punchard hall on Wednesday evening. Mr. Redman spoke informally of economic conditions, housing and sanitation. He also told amusing experiences encountered in attempting to surmount the differences of housekeeping and marketing under conditions almost unbelievable.

All the children in the third and fourth grades at the Indian Ridge school have won the Palmer Method of writing award. For many of them it is the third successive year to receive a medal for their efforts in writing.

25 Years Ago — July 1956

Raytheon Manufacturing Co. has taken its option on the Shawsheen mills. The firm will move in to begin rehabilitating the mills for electronics work, as soon after June 1 as possible. Employment is seen at 1,000 within a year from the conversion date. Another 5,000 may be working there within a five-year period, depending on government contracts.

The Town Manager bill will be admitted to the current legislative session, Rep. Frank S. Giles, Jr. told the TOWNSMAN late Tuesday afternoon that he has received personal assurances from House Speaker Michael Skerry that favorable action will be taken on the measure when the Rules Committee meets. The date of the meeting, however, has not yet been set.

William I. Goodman of Newton Center is the Planning Board's choice as the new master planning consultant. He was scheduled to meet with the board last night to talk over a contract and outline his ideas on the plan. Mr. Goodman is assistant professor of regional planning at Harvard University and has worked with a number of Massachusetts and New Hamp-specifications, the DPW director reported to the selectmen Monday night.

Funding for step three, the actual construction, is a year down the road, McQuade said, when designs are complete. But he fears that government funding may no longer be available by then.

"Whether we will get the step three grant is purely speculation at this time," McQuade told the selectmen. "There is no guarantee that money will be available for step three when we complete the design."

He proposed a trip to Washington, D.C. to advocate speeding up the process by combining the step two and step three grants. "It's never been done, but I think it's worth the effort," McQuade said.

The director explained that the project should be moved along quickly because the existing station could be put out of commission by flooding.

There are no problems at the station at the moment, he said: one pump has been functioning well since it was recently repaired, and a new pump is now on hand for use as a back-up.

"I don't feel there's any problem right now," McQuade said. "My only concern is flooding, because the station would be inoperative."

"I think it's worth a shot," Selectman Donn Byrne said before he moved that McQuade be sent to Washington to meet with Senators Edward Kennedy and Paul Tsongas, and Congressman James Shannon. A selectman and possibly Representative Gerald Cohen will accompany him.

McQuade said he would need "a couple of months" to seek the state's blessing for the trip and "get our act together" before he is ready to head for Capitol Hill.

Soil Disappears

The soil of much of our food-producing land is washing or blowing away faster than it did during the Dust Bowl years of the 1930s. This land has been overcropped and chemicalized to the point that it no longer has the softness and openness needed to soak up water and resist blowing, according to Massachusetts Audubon that the commission will have time to evaluate them, and then have at least one month to negotiate with Arkwright.

The historical commission has been fighting to save the buildings for some time now. Three lesser buildings, including a cottage and a carriage house, have already fallen before the bulldozer to make way for a drainage ditch on the Digital site.

The three main buildings include an eighteenth-century farmhouse and house once known as an ice cream stand, and a country store. The farm at various times belonged to the Abbot, Noyes and Shattuck families, and was farmed by several generations of those families.

JACK ANDERSON and JOE SPEAR

WEEKLY SPECIALNo Potomac cruising for Reagan and crewBy Jack Anderson and Joe Spear

WASHINGTON — President Reagan's political instincts are the despair of his opponents. He has an uncanny ability to sense what the American people feel is proper behavior for their president. He cracked jokes on his way into surgery after the assassination attempt. He has an engaging way of identifying with the common man, even though he is a self-made millionaire.

Now, once again, President Reagan has demonstrated his skill in achieving the common touch. He has turned thumbs down on the offer of a free yacht.

The boat in question is the erstwhile presidential yacht, Sequoia. Eight presidents cruised up and down the Potomac River on it. It was one of the more elegant perks of the presidency.

Then Jimmy Carter got rid of the Sequoia. It was part of his determined pursuit of the populist image — like carrying his own clothes in a garment bag.

Now, a group of industrial fatcats has bought the former presidential yacht. They have fixed it up and have offered it to President Reagan anytime he wants it — free of charge.

But the president isn't buying the idea. He won't touch the Sequoia with a 10-foot barge pole.

Instinctively, the president realizes that it wouldn't go down too well with the public. At a time when Americans are being asked to tighten their belts, he realizes that it would look bad for the Great Economizer to go tooting off for a cruise on a million-dollar yacht.

There's more to it than that. The businessmen who bought the Sequoia have plans to make the boat a floating tax shelter for corporate big shots. Those who donate money for its refurbishing will get to use the yacht for private parties. But they wouldn't be able to write off their donations unless the Sequoia is also made available to the public — at least part of the time.

So the plan is to let small groups tour the yacht when its corporate owners aren't using it. And the president would always have first call on the Sequoia.

But Reagan is too smart to be roped in on a deal like that. He has made it clear he doesn't want to be so much as piped aboard the former presidential yacht.

There may be another reason for the president's reluctance. His seagoing background doesn't run deep. He prefers horses to yachts. For all we know, Ronald Reagan may even get seasick. And a lot of his fellow Americans could understand that.

A NOT-SO-ROSY MESSAGE? The Reagan administration is planning a major effort to crack down on the drug traffic. And there is evidence that the Mafia is worried.

In fact, there is some bizarre evidence that the mobsters are actually trying to scare off the government. Here's the story:

On June 2, three top officials of the Drug Enforcement Administration received surprise gifts of flowers at their Washington offices. The agency's outgoing chief, Peter Bensinger, received six roses. J.W. Gunn, head of the science and technology office, also got six roses. And William Fink, head of intelligence, got 10 carnations.

All of the bouquets had this message on them: "Greetings, guinea pig." And all of them had been sent by wire from Las Vegas, a known mobster stronghold.

The following day, June 3, the mysterious flower giver struck again, and this time the target was the White House. Our sources say President Reagan and Mrs. Reagan received six roses each. The mystery bouquets also carried similar greetings.

It's quite possible, of course, that the floral surprises were the work of a disturbed mind. But underworld sources say that sending flowers in this manner is a standard Mafia message of warning. It's the mob's way of saying, "Get off my back."

The Secret Service's response to our inquiries was a little strange. At first, officials said they couldn't comment on anything that is under investigation. Later, a Secret Service spokesman called back with a carefully worded denial. "Mrs. Reagan has not received such flowers or such a message," he said. This would seem to mean they are not investigating it.

We have learned that the Drug Enforcement Administration has been investigating the flower incidents, and has discovered that the bouquets were ordered at two different locations in Las Vegas. They were paid for in cash by a woman identified as "Paula Cole."

"There is no rational explanation," said a drug agency official. "It could be the work of a nut."

WATCH ON WASTE — The high price of beef and dairy products might be due to a weak and ineffective disease-control program run by the Agriculture Department. That's the conclusion of federal investigators who recently reviewed the department's program. The probes said that livestock diseases have caused higher prices and have cost American consumers billions of dollars.

Republican members of the Joint Congressional Economic Committee recently decided they needed the results of research on how drug usage affects productivity. So they launched a research project to research what research has already been done.

Friends Honor Stanton

Wally Stanton was honored by Andover Little and Senior Leagues on Tuesday, June 30, with a plaque which recognized his 21 years of service to the youth of Andover as a baseball manager and coach.

The plaque was presented by Pinky Grams, National Major League Vice President, on behalf of the many boys and teams which Wally has led.

Wally was born in Everett and grew up in Malden. He moved to Andover in 1959 and began his baseball career in Andover in 1960. He has managed and coached continuously since then, coaching the Minor League Cubs and Cardinals. In 1965 he moved to the Senior League where he managed the Mets and the Angels until now. In 1966 he won the league championship and in 1967, '68, '69 he coached the Senior League All-Star team. In 1967 his All-Star team went to the State semi-finals. Wally has been with a total of nine All-Star teams as manager and coach and for the last two years his Angels have won the American Senior League title.

This year Wally will be manager of the American Senior League All-Star team.

Appreciation

Wally Stanton, who has given over 20 years of service to youth sports activities and particularly Little League baseball, was presented a plaque in appreciation for his efforts this past week. Making the presentation is Pinky Grams, league vice president.

Little League Stars Selected

By Dan Grams

The Andover Little League recently chose its 1981 tournament teams for this year's All Star competition. The tournament is a double elimination setup, beginning July 8 when Andover American will take on Haverhill. Andover National drew a bye and is scheduled to face Tower Hill of Lawrence July 9. Andover's West field has been selected as a host field for the upcoming tournament; so come down and support your local hopefuls.

Coaching this year's All Stars will be Greg Smith (Tigers) for the American League, and Les Mencis (Braves) for the Nationals. Both coaches feel they have a highly talented group of youngsters who have a good chance of going somewhere in the tournament. No Andover entry has ever surpassed the district finals. Hopefully this year's squads will make a good showing of themselves and surpass past Andover Little League stars' success enroute to the Little League World Series in Williamsport, PA.

This year's Andover American stars are: Matt Shine, Jeff Smith (Indians); Paul Gilmartin, David Curtis (Orioles); Jerry Nassiff (Red Sox); Earl Abdo, Ray Rourke (Tigers); Steve Rikemann, Walter Radulski (Twins); Peter Derba, Chris Poor (White Sox); Mark Hashem, Scott Powers and Brian Gibson (Yankees). Alternates include: Matt Burke (Red Sox); David Rourke (Tigers); Chris Sapuppo (Twins); and Ken Bellino (White Sox).

The American stars will heavily rely on their defensive play with their strength going right up the middle of the diamond.

Matt Shine and Brian Gibson are excellent behind the plate with cannons for arms. Both are fine all-around players who should handle the catching chores with ease.

Jerry Nassiff heads the list of talented hurlers to choose from. Nassiff was the Sox ace this season, pitching in all their big games. Rounding out the staff are Jeff Smith, Mark Hashem, Paul Gilmartin, Dave Curtis and Chris Poor. Alternate Dave Rourke was overlooked as a star regular, but threw an impressive string of shutouts lasting three games and is waiting in the wings.

Earl Abdo, one of the finest all-around players on the squad, will anchor the infield with Tiger mate Ray Rourke. Abdo is also a solid performer on the hill, while speedster Rourke makes things happen on the base paths. Poor should also see some action in the infield.

Scott Powers, Peter Derba, Walter Radulski and Steve Rikeman will patrol the outfield. Rikemann and Radulski should also add some punch to the star lineup, as both boys hit over .500 for the season.

Andover National coach Les Mencis has high expectations from his east side entry and indeed he should. The Nationals have three returners: (David Sullivan, Chris Colsia and Ted Cormier) from last year's squad which went to the district 14 finals before bowing out.

Colsia's and Cormier's star experience should provide an excellent 1-2 punch which could spell trouble for opposing teams. Flame-thrower Larry Aiello isn't bad as a number three man on the staff. Aiello led both leagues in strikeouts, setting a new Dodger record. Also contributing to the National staff will be John Gangi, Jack Sweeney and Scott Grant.

Catching appears to be as plentiful as the pitching with four sparkplugs in David Sullivan, Grant, Mike Dimco and James Regan. Sullivan appears to have the inside jump, but power hitting Dimco and Grant are right on his heels. Regan will also be used in the outfield.

The infield can also throw some leather at you with the likes of Cam Deery, Dan Hegarty and Rob Moody. Moody and Hegarty are solid at first and can play the outfield equally effectively. Deery has an excellent glove and rarely lets anything go by him. Colsia and Cormier will also be heavily counted on.

Mike Moriaty is the only full time outfielder on the club. The fleet-footed centerfielder should anchor a solid outfield, no matter who's along side. Peter Sandler (.500 average), an excellent infielder, will see some action in the outfield. Sullivan and Gangi will also be used.

We wish the best of luck to both Andover entries.

Orioles 10 - White Sox 4

Eleven-year-old Allan Reeder led an awesome Oriole 16 hit attack with a towering home run as the Orioles pounded the White Sox 10-4. A big Oriole second inning paved the way to their victory.

Reeder, who along with 11-year-old Tiger star Scott Wallace were overlooked from All Star competition thanks to an American League rule disallowing players under age 12 to participate in tournament play, is the only Oriole player to clear the fence since their existence. He is also the only 11-year-old to hit a round trip since 1971 when the Red Sox's Omar Abbold accomplished the feat.

Chris Nelson had four hits for the birds while Kevin Henderson, Patrick Kelley, David Curtis, Paul Gilmartin and Reeder chipped in with two apiece. Curtis picked up the win.

Jim Sullivan, Peter Derba and Chris Poor were the Sox hitters. Poor was also a defensive standout.

The Oriole victory marked the end of a very successful season (12-6, second place) for the O's who will lose only three players through graduation. With the likes of such unsung stars as Allan Reeder, the Orioles should be a contender in next year's American League.

Orioles 14 - Indians 7

The Orioles scored five times in the second and did not look back as the O's beat the Indians. Chris Nelson, Kevin Henderson, Paul Gilmartin, Chris Concerni, David Curtis, Pat Kelley and David Noves had consecutive to account for all five runs in the second inning uprise. Nelson and Concerni each had three hits, Gilmartin and Curtis, a pair, and Hugh Maginiss. Mike Smith and Allan Reeder chipped in with a safety apiece.

The losers were led by Brian Costello's four hits and three RBIs. Jeff Smith and Matt Shine each doubled.

Indians 7 - Twins 4

John Anderson, John Glynn and Andy Frost combined to limit the Twins to just three hits. Frost pitched three strong innings in which he struck out five and walked three. Jamie O'Brien had two hits, while Matt Shine had a hit and two RBIs. Jeff Smith and Shine stuck out defensively.

Indians 6 - Red Sox 1

Jeff Smith and Andy Frost combined on a three hitter while striking out nine as the Indians beat the Sox. Matty Pothier had two hits and four RBIs, while Jeff Smith had two and Paul Dubanowitz had one.

Matt Shine played a strong game behind the plate. Jerry Nassiff started out for the Sox, but had to leave the game when the heat got to him.

Pirates 8 - Dodgers 3

James Regan pitched a complete game. He also had a big night at the plate with two hits and four RBIs. Jim Tacy and Peter Sandler also had two hits. Ray Cunningham and Tacy played a superb game in the field.

The Andover Gold Babe Ruth baseball team lost its hold on first place in the Greater-Lawrence League recently, splitting a pair of contests to slip one-half game behind North Andover in the standings.

Gold bounced back from its lopsided loss to Andover Blue by dropping Prospect Hill 9-6 on the eve of the Canadian trip, but the locals lost a tough 1-0 decision to North Andover the day after their return from Montreal.

Those results left Gold at 7-2 in the league and 8-2 overall, while North Andover stretched its win streak to seven straight and is now 7-1 overall.

Andover Blue, following lopsided romps over Prospect Hill (11-1) and South Lawrence East (10-2), is right back in the thick of the title fight with a 5-2 mark.

Andover Gold is in the midst of a busy week, having played South Lawrence East last Tuesday night and North Lawrence last night.

Tonight Gold wraps up its regular-season series with North Andover, hosting that team at the East Junior High Playstead Field, and Saturday morning Andover Gold steps out of league play for a game against the Lowell Shedd All-Stars.

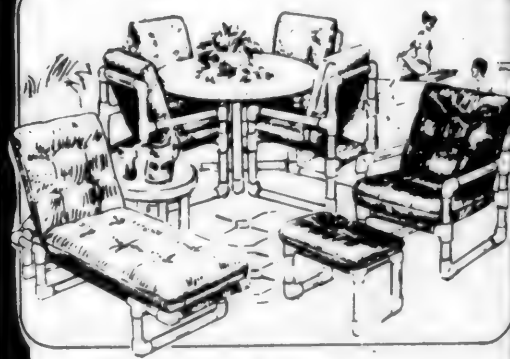

Gold, 9-6

The Gold crew left for Canada on a winning note, slapping Prospect Hill 9-6 behind the combined pitching efforts of righthanders Bill Weidman and Mark Lefebvre.

Weidman, now 3-0, worked the first six-and-one-third innings, walking only one and striking out six, but he needed relief help from Lefebvre who earned his first save.

Lefebvre was summoned in the top of the seventh with one out, the bases loaded, and the go-ahead run at the plate.

He proceeded to strike out the first batter and retire the next man on a weak grounder to second base.

Prospect Hill grabbed a 1-0 lead in the top of the first when Mark Piccirillo singled, took third on Carlos Santana's single, and scored on Eric Suliveras' infield out.

Gold came back with five runs in the bottom of the first, sending 10 batters to the plate.

Singles were stroked by Mark Grams, Steve Dougal, Billy Vickers (two RBI), Scott Zimmerman (RBI), Billy Lane (RBI) and Brian Finnerty.

Gold made it 6-1 in the second, notching an unearned run when Steve Dougal reached on an error and later crossed on Zimmerman's single.

PH battled back with three runs in the third, lacing four hits including a two-run single by Kevin Greeley.

In the home half of the third Billy Lane doubled, stole third, and scored on a sacrifice fly to shallow right-centerfield by Kraig Burzlaff.

The winners notched their final two runs in the fifth, building a seemingly comfortable 9-4 lead.

Mark Lefebvre singled, stole second and raced home on Weidman's single. Weidman later scored on a long double to left-centerfield by Mark Doherty.

Weidman had retired 11 straight batters entering the seventh, but Santana broke the string with a single. Suliveras was safe on a one-out error, and successive singles by Frank Quintana and Jim Doyle produced two runs and loaded the bases.

That brought Lefebvre to the rescue. Lane, Zimmerman, Dougal and Vickers powered the Gold assault with two hits apiece, while Shane Smith contributed a single to the 14-hit offense.

Billy Lane was a defensive standout at shortstop, handling seven chances flawlessly.

North Andover, 1-0

Lefthander Billy Vickers of Andover Gold and righthander Dave Blackstock of North Andover hooked up in a brilliant pitcher's duel, a game decided when NA pushed across a scratch run in the bottom of the third at Grogan's Field.

The result squared the series between the two teams, with gold owning a 6-4 victory in the first encounter.

Blackstock had things pretty much his own way, holding Andover to three singles while walking two and whiffing five.

Vickers pitched his way out of three big jams, allowing 11 singles, striking out eight and walking none. Vickers (2-2) has walked only two batters in 24 innings.

In the NA third Steve Brennan led with a single, Jim Norwood singled, both advanced on an infield out, and with two down Bill Hermann barely beat out a bad hop infield single for the run.

In the North Andover fifth consecutive one-out singles by Blackstock, T.J. Conte and Hermann loaded the bases, but Vickers wiggled free on a shallow fly to left-fielder Scott Zimmerman and a strikeout.

In the NA sixth Chris Strobel (3-for-3), and Greg Androski led with singles, Brennan sacrificed them along, but again Vickers toughened with a strikeout and popout to Billy Lane at shortstop.

Gold managed only one minor and one major threat.

The minor threat came in the second, when Zimmerman lashed a leadoff single and Bill Weidman drew a two-out walk. A fly to rightfield ended the inning.

Billy Lane launched the top of the fifth

Val Gacioch

Receives Coach's Award

Val Gacioch of North Andover has been named the recipient of the Coach's Award on the 1981 Bentley College varsity softball team. Coach Peter Breton announced.

Gacioch, the Falcons' captain and only senior, also received her fourth varsity letter. With a team dominated by freshmen and sophomores, Bentley finished the year with an 11-13 record.

A third baseman, Gacioch hit .241 this spring with 14 hits in 58 at bats. She tied for the team lead in RBIs with seven and also had five sacrifices and 12 walks, giving her an on-base percentage of .371.

Gacioch also saw action as a pitcher this spring. She pitched better than her 1-4 record indicates as Bentley scored a total of five runs in the four losses.

A 1977 graduate of North Andover High School, Gacioch was an accounting major at Bentley. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Gacioch of 56 Russell St., North Andover.

Volleyball

On Tuesday evenings, from 7 to 8, the Greater Lawrence YWCA is offering volleyball for men and women.

The games will be recreational and are open to adults of all ages and abilities. The games will be referred with basic instruction offered to the beginner. Payment is on a drop-in basis.

Back Program Scheduled At Y

The Andover-North Andover YMCA will be offering the Y's Way to a Healthy Back Program starting Monday, July 13. The program, designed primarily to relieve back pain, increase flexibility and ease tension, was designed by Dr. Hans Kraus, M.D., world-famous back specialist, and approved by the Medical Advisory Committee of the YMCA of Greater New York.

The special exercise program which utilizes the Kraus-Weber test to determine minimal muscular strength and flexibility is composed of a series of movements that begins with relaxation, then flexibility, mild muscular strengthening and returning to muscle relaxation techniques.

More than 80 percent of the participants previously enrolled in our program found relief or complete elimination of back pain," according to Bevolyn Oliver, certified instructor of the program.

"If you are among the many who complain of back pain and your condition is not caused by organic disease, but by muscles that are weak or tense or both, then the YMCA program may be of significant help to you," stated Mrs. Oliver.

The six-week program will be offered Monday and Wednesday evenings from 7:15 to 8:15 p.m. starting July 13 and ending Aug. 19. Registrations are now being accepted at the Andover-North Andover YMCA between the hours of 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Monday through Friday.

For further information of the Y's Way to a Healthy Back program, call Bevolyn Oliver at the YMCA, 165 Haverhill St., Andover.

Tree Therapy

Along the coast of China, Casuarina trees (from Australia) have been planted to protect the land and villages from typhoons and sandstorms. Stretching 1,864 miles, the forest comprises 3,860 square miles; it stabilizes sand dunes, supplies timber and fuel, and helps relieve droughts, according to Massachusetts Audubon.

Movie Thriller

This Monday's movie is the action packed Walt Disney feature "Escape to Witch Mountain," starring Eddie Albert and Ray Milland. This film involves two charming orphans with supernatural powers who find themselves on the lam from a greedy millionaire who wants to exploit their amazing powers for his own (evil) purposes. Fun and fantasy mix as the children race to safety, and the answers to a riddle, at mysterious Witch Mountain. The July 13 movie will begin at dusk. In the event of rain, the movie will be held on Tuesday.

Rock N Roll Concert

A rock n roll concert featuring the band, Eternity, will be held on Wednesday, July 15, in Central Park. The concert will start at 7 p.m. In the event of rain, the concert will be held on Thursday, July 16.

Playgrounds To Visit

Benson's Wild Animal Farm

Andover's playgrounds will be visiting Benson's Wild Animal Farm on Wednesday, July 15. Information for this event can be obtained from the playground supervisors and at the DCS office.

Pre-School Program

Applications are still being accepted for the pre-school programs that began last week at the Bancroft and Sanborn Schools. The program offers arts and crafts, nature walks, and story-telling and allows pre-schoolers the opportunity to meet and learn to play with a variety of children their own age. Those who wish to register for this program, which is held Monday through Friday, 9-12 noon, may do so at the DCS office, 36 Bartlet St. A second four-week session will begin on Monday, July 27.

Puppet Theater Workshop

An all new, nine-day intensive puppet theater workshop for children in grades 4 and 5 will be offered beginning Monday, July 20. This program will be held at the high school between 9 and 10:15 a.m. and will involve the children in hand-building the puppets, developing a play revolving around the puppets and giving a final performance. Special attention will be given to the development of oral communication as well as handicraft skills. Those interested should register at the DCS office on Bartlet Street.

Introducing... BRIDGESTONE SuperFiller STEEL-BELTED RADIALS.

Bridgestone advanced tire technology. "You can feel it when you drive," says noted golfer Lee Trevino. SuperFiller steel-belted radials have an unusually stiff bead area of super-hard rubber combined with a flexible sidewall. SuperFiller tires are designed for comfort and performance, and have a tread pattern specially designed for long wear.

207V SuperFiller steel-belted radial. A tough P-metric 70-series tire for domestic and imported sporty and performance cars. Comes with a wide and aggressive tread pattern for great traction on wet and dry roads and good handling and durability at high speeds without having excessive pattern noise or without sacrificing tread wear. Has two tough steel belts plus one or two polyester casing cord plies. Additional nylon protection plies are placed in the tread. Raised-white letters for a "sportin' look" or tubeless blackwall.

With approximately half of the regular season play completed, Andover's representative in the Merrimack Valley Senior (16-18) Babe Ruth League, is now in a virtual second place tie with Chelmsford (8-2-1), in the tough and highly competitive West Division of the League.

During the past week, Andover surprisingly split a doubleheader relatively weak Boxford team, but rebounded successfully, to hand the league leading Billerica entry, their initial loss of the season. However, Billerica is still poised atop the West Division with a 7-1-1 record, which includes the loss to Andover and a 4-4 tie suspended game, with a strong Chelmsford mine.

Lawrence National (6-4) and Lawrence Americans (5-6) complete the West Division standings.

In the comparatively weaker East Division, which includes three expansion teams as well as the 1980 cellar dweller, Topsfield led by its strong pitching, leads the Division with a comfortable 5-2 record followed by Haverhill (6-6), Newburyport (4-7) and Tri Town and Boxford, both with but one victory in eleven attempts.

Since only the top three teams in each of the two divisions are eligible for post season tournament play, the veteran and highly competitive West Division is involved in bitter combat to determine its three eventual representatives. Meanwhile, Topsfield is a virtual certainty in the East Division, with Haverhill (6-6) and Newburyport (4-7) being the leading contenders for the two remaining East Division tournament slots.

Andover's remaining ten regular season games are comprised of two games each with Billerica, Chelmsford, Topsfield, Lawrence National and Lawrence Americans. All but two of these games (Chelmsford and Lawrence American) will be played on Andover's opponent home turf, providing the Andover team ample opportunity to display its considerable talent.

character and desire to excel under pressure.

Boxford Surprises

In the 7-3 shocking loss to previously winless Boxford, overconfident Andover spotted its opponent four runs in the first inning, and never did manage to catch-up.

Pitcher Tim Bolduc's wildness, coupled with a costly infield error followed by two well stroked doubles, resulted in four Boxford runs before Andover could take its initial turn at bat. Meanwhile, Shade, the diminutive Boxford portsider, had excellent control of a good football and sharp breaking curve and was supported by excellent fielding from his suddenly enthusiastic teammates.

As in often typical, the previously winless Boxford team, buoyed by its unexpected lead over one of the league's strongest club, and while not playing spectacular, made all the routine plays to further frustrate the Andover squad which generally "played down" to their opponent's normal level of play.

Ed Power pitched seven strong innings of relief, but Andover's bottled up offense could not generate the necessary five power to overcome the initial Boxford barrage.

Leading hitters for Andover included Jon Pelletier 2/2, Bob Heidt with a long home run and a single for 3 RBI's and Steve Rathbun with an RBI single.

Andover Retaliates

During the night cap of the Boxford doubleheader, Andover released its pent up frustration resulting from the first game loss, by overwhelming Boxford by a 16-3 score.

Ed Powers led the assault with a perfect 5 for 5 game including two long doubles. Pitcher Jim McMillan was brilliant on the mound, yielding but 2 hits while striking out 14 bewildered batters, during the seven inning affair. Boxford was literally overwhelmed by his fastball

The highlight of the game occurred in the 6th inning when Andover scored eight runs on eight consecutive outfield hits

While Andover did gain some element of revenge and satisfaction during the second game shellacking of an obviously less talented opponent, the first game loss could not be discounted relative to league standings, leaving Andover with an 8-3 win-loss record and a somewhat shattered ego.

Caselden Brilliant Over Billerica

During an outstanding played game at the Andover Playstead, Andover regained its pride and demonstrated its character, by beating previously unbeaten Billerica, 1-0.

Bill Caselden pitched a gutsy, 4 hit shut-out over a powerful foe, walking 3 batters and striking out 4 in the process. Bill threw "ground balls" throughout the entire game, while his considerably talented teammates, especially the infield, gave him all the support required. Steve Rathbun made a truly outstanding stab of a line drive, while Jeff Parker and Jeff Demers "gobbled up" all ground balls hit within their considerable reaches.

Catcher Brett Pearson confirmed the old baseball edge, "that behind every good pitching performance, is the work of a good catcher", by handling Caselden's various speed curve balls effectively and throwing out a "would be" base stealer, in the process.

Andover scored its only run in the first

Lightning

A rare type of lightning has been discovered in Oklahoma prairie storms. It carries a positive charge and a high current and is 10 to 100 times more powerful than negative lightning. Previously, it was believed that positive lightning struck only on mountain peaks and tall building. Massachusetts Audubon reports.

inning, when speedster Andy Emmert lined a single to left and was followed by a walk to Jeff Parker. The run then scored on Jon Pelletier's well stroked ground ball fielder's choice.

Billerica's hard throwing pitcher, Tierney, yielded but four hits, but was hit hard throughout the game.

Besides Emmert's hit, Pelletier, Rathbun and Powers collected solo hits.

The victory boosted Andover's record to 9-3 and deflated Billerica from its lofty undefeated status.

convert an apartment complex into condominiums because the town had granted a special permit for the original complex. The court ruled that the special permit gave the town the power to control the apartment.

The planned conversion of Washington Park "looks to me to be very analogous to the Newton case," town counsel commented. He explained that the complex acreage was originally farmland, until it was rezoned for apartments in 1962.

"It was rezoned especially for apartments," Daniels said. "If it is converted into single-family condominiums, it won't comply with the multi-family zone."

"I think they (Cohen Properties) could be in trouble," he added.

The original condominium conversion bylaw, developed by the selectmen, called only for the ZBA permit requirement. The one-year eviction notice was added by the Washington Park residents, as an amendment made on the floor of town meeting.

Before town meeting, town counsel expressed serious doubts that the amendment would be approved by the attorney general.

Town Clerk Sauter said Tuesday that in his 12 years with the town, he has seen only "two or three" bylaws passed by town meeting disapproved by the attorney general.

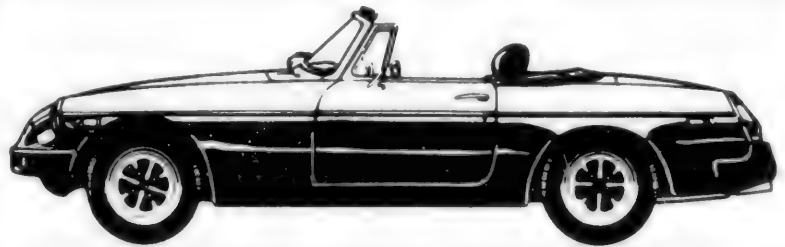

In those cases, which he characterized as "comparatively minor," the town did not contest the attorney general's ruling, Sauter said.

Barrel Of Fun

Barrel of Fun at the Greater Lawrence YWCA will continue through the summer on Fridays from 1:30 to 3:45.

The program is for girls and boys between the ages of 6 and 12 years old. The activities schedule is games and gymnastics with use of the uneven parallel bars, balance beam, trampoline and mats from 1:30 to 2:15, and a recreational swim from 2:30 to 3:15.

Membership in the YWCA is not required. The fee is weekly on a drop-in basis. For more information, contact the Greater Lawrence YWCA.

LAST OF THE LEGENDARY MGs.

When these brand new 1980 model MGBs are gone, they're gone forever. It's your last chance to own the sports car America loved first. These quick, clean lined convertibles could become collector's items. They are living classics now. So come in today. And drive out with a legend—the MGB, the last of a great classic breed.

Students Assist

Sixth-graders from the Sanborn School presented a check for $75 to the Andover Haven during a recent ceremony at the Haven in the Essex Street theatre building.

The schoolchildren had raised money for school activities during the past year. When they found themselves with a surplus at year's end, they elected to donate it to the Haven to demonstrate their appreciation for the contributions Andover's senior residents make to the community.

The students raised the money by running a flea market, a car wash and bake sales.

Leo J. Couture & Sons — 18 Years Of Experience

With the warm weather here, the cooling system in your car or truck must be in top working order. For complete radiator service for cars and trucks, see the experts at Leo J. Couture & Sons, Medford Street, behind Essex Plaza, in Lawrence. Their eighteen years in the business is your guarantee of a fair deal. At Couture's full service radiator shop, you can have any job taken care of, large or small. Couture's has the newest modern equipment and the know-how to solve any heating and cooling system problem. The men in the shop have full school certification in radiator work.

They recommend preventive maintenance for your radiator.

Be sure you have the correct amount of anti-freeze and water at all times. Have your radiator reverse flushed to prevent clogging and remove scale and rust deposits.

They also do heater core service, gas tank repair work, radiator rebuilding, auto air conditioner service, general auto repairs, plus 24 hour towing service. So don't risk having an overheated radiator spoil your summer vacation plans. Let the radiator pros at Leo J. Couture & Sons handle your car's heating and cooling system problems.

If you have a radiator, have it rebuilt with a new radiator core or let Leo J. Couture & Sons supply you with a good used one or sell you a new one that's right for your car. One way or another your radiator problems will end at Couture's.

This is the same Leo J. Couture & Sons that offers the highest prices in the area for wrecked vehicles. If you have a late model wreck with some useable parts call Couture and Sons. They will not only tow it away for you, they will give you cash on the spot for it. This supplies them a huge inventory of used auto and truck parts for just about any make or model vehicle on the road today.

Call Leo J. Couture and Sons, Medford Street, Lawrence, at 685-9703, or residence at 686-5884. Mon-Fri 8 A.M. to 5 P.M.

SOLAR HEAT FUTURE KEY

What with the cost of fuel oil, gas and electricity climbing steadily, it's increasingly difficult for the homeowner to keep cheerful and warm at the same time. Solar heat may be the answer in the future.

Engineers from Honeywell Inc., recently studied the performance of solar heating and cooling equipment in 12 cities. They came to the conclusion that the sun could furnish 84% of the average annual heating requirements for a typical house in New York City and 77% of the necessary air-conditioning energy. In Atlanta, the figures were 85% and 63%; in Chicago 50% and 67%.

A solar heating set-up stores energy in the form of sun-heated hot water. This energy can be used both for heating and air-conditioning. And although the price of a solar heating unit is high now, growing demand is expected to bring down the cost considerably in the future. There's one catch, though. Long periods of cloudy weather mean big trouble for solar energy units. So, you'll still need some back-up heating.

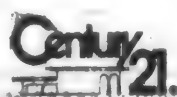

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Pynchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100. We're here to help.

Temporary Secretary Appointed

A new Planning Board secretary, Janet Murphy, has been hired to replace former secretary Linda Nicoll on a temporary basis.

Murphy, who has worked for the school department in the past, will work with the planners for the next four months. At that point the new Community Development and Planning director, still to be hired, may choose to hire another secretary.

Murphy started working for the town last week, and attended her first planning board meeting, with Nicoll, Tuesday night.

The planners two weeks ago expressed some displeasure that former Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark had resigned, leaving them without a Community Development director to replace Rhys Kear, and without a secretary as well.

Down The Years

shire communities during the past several years.

10 Years Ago — July 1971

An emotional crowd of approximately 380 parents and townspeople interrupted school committeemen and any other speakers they disagreed with Tuesday night, until the committee responded to 1,245 petition signatures with a motion designed to restore full busing services — but not out of the expense budget!

Robert Crowe of Somerville, a sophomore at Brandeis University, one of 14 interns employed by the Massachusetts Department of Commerce for the summer, has been assigned to Andover. Town Manager J. Maynard Austin informed the selectmen of that appointment at Monday night's meeting. Crowe will work under the town manager and will be given various assignments, including a study of community goals and capital budgeting.

A swarm of Bartlet street bees made a bee-line to Memorial Hall Library last Thursday noon, and it took some quick action on the part of the police department and Stephen Lovejoy of the Bay State Bank to get the bees back in the hive where they belonged. Mr. Lovejoy happens to be a bee-keeper, as well as a bank teller, so when he was contacted it was no effort at all for him to don his head and face mask, pick up an extra hive, and eventually persuade all those busy bees back under cover. In the meantime motorists and pedestrians gaped in amazement at the invasion of Elm Square.

Personnel changes at the schools were approved Tuesday night, principally granting West Junior High Principal William Hart a year's leave of absence at half pay, to study the middle school system in England; the transfer of high school assistant principal Charles Adams to the same post at the West Junior High in September, and the resignation of Miss Marie-Therese Marzullo, head of the high school English department.
